SECTION B: PARAGRAPH QUESTIONS

ANSWER ALL 4 QUESTIONS IN THE SPACES PROVIDED.

Question 1 (10 marks)

The organisation for which you are currently working as a risk management consultant will be engaged in a unique venture for the next two years. The risks associated with the venture are not considered to be insurable by the private insurance market. Management is considering one of two options, namely establishing its own captive insurance company or joining a rent-a-captive. It approaches you for advice in this regard.

You are required to make a recommendation on the most appropriate form of captive in this particular circumstance. Support your answer by referring to the distinguishing characteristics and benefits associated with each of the two types of captives.
Question 2 (10 marks)

Mr Samuels, the sole owner of a small retail outlet, is considering the implementation of a self-insurance programme and approaches you for some assistance in this regard. The following information is supplied by the auditor of the organisation to assist you with your final recommendations:

- Annual sales: R600 000
- Net income after tax: R220 000
- Average net income after tax for 5 years: R235 000
- Net income percentage of turnover: 33%
- Total Assets: R500 000
- Unmortgaged Assets: R200 000
- Current Assets: R250 000
- Current liabilities: R125 000

You are required to comment on the aforementioned organisation's ability to absorb losses and to make recommendations with regard to the implementation of a self-insurance programme. All recommendations should be backed by sound theoretical principles. In your answer make reference to the advantages and disadvantages of self-insurance programmes.
Question 3 (10 marks)

A large component of the savings of many individuals are done via policies and investments provided by long term insurers. Argue the need for the valuation of long term insurers and the factors that actuaries will consider to perform the evaluations.
Question 4 (10 marks)

You have been appointed as the claims manager at a large South African long term insurer. One of your priorities is to reduce the risk of the payment of invalid claims and you therefore want to ensure that staff involved in the handling of claims is competent and have a good understanding of the assessment of claims. Motivate what information the claims assessor must verify before the process of assessing a claim.
