SATELLITE BROADCASTS:

A satellite broadcast will also be offered for CLA2601. The date for first semester students is 24 March 2011 from 14:00-16:00. You can visit the "myUnisa" website to obtain the necessary information (go to www.unisa.ac.za, then to "myUnisa" and "UNISA satellite broadcast"). You need to go to one of the venues on the attached list to be able to participate in the broadcast. You do not have to register for these broadcasts beforehand. There are also no costs involved in attending the broadcast. The broadcast will be in English only.

The date of the satellite broadcast in the second semester will be communicated to students at a later stage.

3 FORMAT OF THE EXAMINATION PAPER

Please take note that the duration of the examination is two hours. The examination paper counts 100 marks and is divided into two sections. Section A counts 55 marks and section B counts 45 marks. Both sections will deal with aspects of the law of companies and close corporations. The law relating to partnerships and business trusts are not included in the examination paper.

Section A of the paper will consist of questions with subsections which must be answered on the examination paper in the space provided. In this section you must be able to identify problems, discuss and explain the legal principles and then come to a conclusion based on the given facts. You can also expect some direct (“list”/“name”) questions.

Section B of the paper will consist of fifteen (15) multiple-choice questions counting three (3) marks each. The answers to these multiple-choice questions must be indicated with a soft pencil on the mark-reading sheet which will be provided to you.

4 GENERAL REMARKS REGARDING THE EXAMINATION

- Students often lose marks because they do not read the questions carefully. Please note that the abbreviation of the name of a business (eg ZET (Pty) Ltd for a private company and ZET CC for a close corporation) will give an indication of the type of business involved. The same goes for terms such as “shares” and “directors”. If you use the term “share” instead of “member’s interest” in a question about close corporations, it will be wrong and you will lose marks.
- Read all the tutorial letters. They form part of your study material.
- You are not expected to know the numbers of sections that are mentioned in passing, for instance, in brackets. You must, however, know the section numbers of those sections that are discussed individually, for instance sections 15, 20 and 44 of the Companies Act of 2008.
- You need to know the cases, as discussed in your prescribed textbook. You need not memorise the full names and references of the cases for the examination, but may refer to a case by using an abbreviation of the name that you find easy to remember, for instance “the Robinson case”. Your knowledge of court decisions will also be tested in the multiple-choice questions.
- Study the study guide properly!
- Please note that it will not be sufficient to answer the self-assessment questions and the activities in the study guide to prepare for the examination. However, the self-assessment questions, the activities and the assignments will give you a good idea of the type of questions you may expect in the examination.
- No question in section A will count more than six (6) marks.

5. CONCEPT EXAMINATION PAPER FOR PURPOSES OF REVISION:

PLEASE NOTE THAT YOU DO NOT HAVE TO STUDY STUDY-UNIT 10 (PARTNERSHIPS) AND 12 (TRUSTS) FOR PURPOSES OF THE EXAMINATION.

We include a concept examination paper for purposes of revision. This should provide you with an indication of the way in which the longer (written) questions are asked in this module. We shall provide you with guidelines for answering these questions in Tutorial Letter 201.

However, please note that you will not pass if you merely work out the questions to this concept paper and memorize it. The prescribed work for this module must be thoroughly studied to master the work.
